

Privacy Statement

Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic Privacy Policy

Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic is committed to protecting the privacy of your personal information. This privacy policy explains how Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic manages the personal information that we collect, use and disclose and how to contact us if you have any further queries about our management of your personal information or would like to request access to that information.

Background

The Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic is a medical practice that provides comprehensive travel health advice, vaccination coverage and a range of other travel and health related products.

Travel Bug Vaccination Clinics is required to comply with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act), which regulates the manner in which personal information is handled throughout its life cycle, from collection to use and disclosure, storage, accessibility and disposal.

Personal information is information or an opinion, in any form and whether true or not, about an individual whose identity is apparent or can reasonably be ascertained from the information or opinion. It includes your name, age, gender, contact details as well as your health information (which is also sensitive information).

Special provisions apply to the collection of personal information that is also sensitive information. As well as health information, sensitive information includes information about a person's race, ethnic origin, political opinions, membership of political, professional or trade associations, religious or philosophical beliefs, sexual preferences and criminal history.

Collection of personal information by Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic

Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic will only collect personal information about you by lawful and fair means and not in an unreasonably intrusive manner. The types of personal information we may collect include:

- identifying and contact information such as name, age, employment details and contact details such as home address, home and mobile phone number and email address;
- health information including current and past medical history;
- financial information, such as bank account details; and
- information about your lifestyle and lifestyle interests (for example, sporting interests).

We collect personal information to provide you with the products and services you request as well as information on other products and services offered by or through us. We may also be required by law to collect some personal information.

A patient's personal information may be held at the Practice in various forms:

- as paper records
- as electronic records
- as visual – x-rays, CT scans, videos and photos
- as audio recordings

The Practice holds all personal information securely, whether in electronic format, in protected information systems or in hard copy format in a secured environment.

The Practice's procedure for collecting personal information is set out below.

1. Practice staff collect patients' personal and demographic information via registration when patients present to the Practice for the first time.
2. During the course of providing medical services, the Practice's healthcare practitioners will consequently collect further personal information.
3. Personal information may also be collected from the patient's guardian or responsible person (where practicable and necessary), or from any other involved healthcare specialists.

Where possible, we will collect personal information directly from you or a person authorised to provide this information on your behalf. Where we collect your personal information from a third party (for example, a government agency, employer, educational institution and service provider or adviser who has dealt with you) we will take reasonable steps to ensure that you are made aware of this.

Use and disclosure of personal information by Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic

Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic will only use or disclose your personal information as permitted under the Privacy Act.

We will use your personal information to:

- provide you with the products and services you request; manage our relationship with you;
- provide you with information about other products and services that we think may be of interest to you (this may include our own products and services or the products or services of others);
- develop products and services; and
- perform any of our other functions and activities.

Our range of products and services and our functions and activities may vary from time to time.

In order to properly conduct our activities, we may disclose, with your consent where necessary, personal information to other persons or organisations (and they may contact you directly). Such persons and organisations include:

- health service providers;
- our service providers;
- your employer; persons authorised by you, including your agents and advisers and educational institutions;
- payment systems operators and financial institutions; and
- other parties to whom we are authorised or required by law to disclose information.

Data quality and security

To the extent required by the Privacy Act, Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic will take reasonable steps to:

- make sure that the personal information that we collect, use and disclose is accurate, complete and up to date;
- protect the personal information that we hold from misuse and loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure; and

- where permitted by law, destroy or permanently de-identify personal information that is no longer needed for any purpose that is permitted by the Privacy Act.

Anonymity

Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic will generally provide individuals with the option of not identifying themselves when entering transactions when it is lawful and practicable to do so. However, on many occasions we will not be able to do this. For example, we will need your name and address in order to provide you a medical service.

Use of Commonwealth Government identifiers

Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic will not use Commonwealth government identifiers, such as Medicare numbers, as its own identifier of individuals. We will only use or disclose such identifiers in the circumstances permitted by the Privacy Act.

Transfer of personal information overseas

If Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic transfers your personal information outside Australia, we will comply with the requirements of the Privacy Act that relate to transborder data flows.

Access to and correction of your personal information

Please contact Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic if you would like to access or correct the personal information that we hold about you. Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic will generally provide you with access to your personal information if practicable (although a fee may be imposed), and will take reasonable steps to amend any personal information about you which is inaccurate or out of date. Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic must be certain of your identity before any personal information is disclosed. In order to protect the personal information of the individual, the individual must prove his/her identity. Proof of identity can be ascertained by the individual providing:

- Full name
- Date of birth and
- Address, as recorded in our records

Other identifiers can be provided for proof of identity dependent on circumstances.

In some circumstances, Travel Bug Vaccination Clinic may not permit access to your personal information, or may refuse to correct your personal information, in which case we will provide you reasons for this decision.
